Seeking Cherokee National Treasure Nominations

Cherokee Nation Seeking Cherokee National Treasure Nominations

The Cherokee Nation will once again recognize Cherokee citizens with exceptional knowledge of Cherokee art forms and cultural practices, and is asking the public for nominations to consider for the Cherokee National Treasure Award.

The Cherokee National Treasure Award was designed to showcase those who are actively involved with the preservation and revival of Cherokee cultural practices that might otherwise be lost from one generation to the next. Nominations are now being sought for Cherokee master craftspeople that are sharing their knowledge in areas such as traditional bow-making, basketry, pottery, wood and stone carving, gig making and flint knapping. Categories also include Cherokee language, graphic arts, contemporary arts and music. Nominees must be citizens of the Cherokee Nation who have made major contributions or a lifetime commitment of perpetuating the Cherokee culture.

The final selection of the person or persons receiving the designation for 2015 will be made by the Principal Chief based on recommendations from the Cherokee National Treasure Advisory Committee. The announcement and recognition will take place over Labor Day weekend at the 63rd Annual Cherokee National Holiday at a banquet hosted by Cherokee Nation Principal Chief.

Nomination forms also available on Cherokee Nation's website, www.cherokee.org, or by calling Education Services at (918) 453-5367. The deadline to submit a nomination packet is Friday, June 19, 2015 at 5 p.m. Incomplete nomination packets will be disqualified. Please read the nomination form carefully and provide all requested supplemental information.
