Emergency Safety - Quick Tips

BOTTLED WATER is to be used for your daily drinking and cooking supply only. It's advised not to use this supply for bathing, flushing toilets, etc. It is wise to fill a bathtub with tap water prior to a storm; this water can later be used for flushing toilets, etc. if needed.

GENERATORS must be run outside, not indoors, and not in a garage. Fumes from generators are dangerous and can cause asphyxiation. Check generators every two hours for gasoline and oil.

PROPANE HEATERS must also be ventilated, remember to keep a couple of windows in different areas of your home opened a small amount to provide cross-ventilation. Propane heaters can cause carbon monoxide poisoning without proper ventilation.

CHECK ON YOUR NEIGHBORS! Be a good neighbor and check on family, friends and neighbors to see if they need help.
